There's a lot of difference in profits or losses from one farm to another. Basically, there is but one reason management. Purdue University has worked out an interesting questionnaire that asks: "How do you compare? (1) 8% worth of crops per acre of $85 worth of crops per acre; (2) $1.46 return per $1.00 worth of feed fed, or $1.39 return per $1.00 worth of feed fed; (3) 520-lb. 600 gross per man or $11,000 gross per man; (4) $1.60 gross for each $1.00 of expense or $1.20 gross for each $1.00 of expenses. What are your goals for 1965?

HARRY Jenkins was by the other day and commented that a farmer could save money if he bought the right analysis fertilizer for the right crop. Couldn't help but agree with him— this looks like a small thing but it costs Appomattox farmers thousands of dollars each year. You expect a farm supplier to carry every analysis of fertilizer, but by planning your needs now you can place your order and get the kind you need. For example— a lot of 5-10-10 is used, but if your soil is fast in phosphate, you probably should be using 5-20-10. Not much difference? If it's needed, it will put money in your pocket.

Testing cattle for Bangs is important. There are some cattlemen that run into the problem of suspects. This may or may not be caused by the disease or maybe its late vaccination. Cattlemen are permitted to vaccinate calves up to eight months of age, but experience has shown that if they wait too late they're inviting trouble. Extensive experiments over the past 10 years show that vaccinated between 4 and 6 months, no persistant titres; between 6 and 8 months 10 persistant titres; between 8 and 10 months, 25 per cent persistant titres; between 10 and 16 months, 40 percent persistant titres. Since there is no way your veterinarian can distinguish between vaccinal reaction and the true disease— vaccinate when calves are 4 to 6 months of age. This must be done by a veterinarian. Be sure it's done—so can eradicate Bangs from our herds.

Results of the Small Grain Variety Tests have just come in. The following yield results on 3 per acre basis are taken from the test at Charlotte Court House Fall Oats: Lee, 66 bu.; Carolee, 70 bu.; Roanoke, 87 bu.; Barley— Dayton 73 bu.; Wade 61 bu.; Rogers, 60 bu.; Kenlar, 58 bu.; Hudson 55, bu.; Wong 54 bu.; Colonial 2, 54 bu.; Davis, 50 bu.; James 50 bu.; Wheat, Atlas 66, 61 bu.; Wakeland, 40 bu.; Coker 47-77, 29 bu.; Redcoat, 37 bu.; Tayland, 37 bu.; Anderson 32 bu. Seneca, 30 bu.

Raspberries, like strawberries, are affected by viruses. In 1964 17 varieties of mosaic- free raspberries were introduced into the commercial trade. If you are buying plants for this spring planting, be sure to ask for virus-free stock.

Black locusts can be a continuing supply of post and lumber. Some work in Ohio showed some interesting results. They started with seedlings. 10 years later they cut the trees for posts and had a return of $400 per acre. The stump was cut on an angle so that water would not soak into and rot the stump. Each stump produced several sprouts which then grew into second cutting trees and were harvested 12 years later with a value of $624 per acre. This was one of the ways to additional return on some of our hillsides that are too eroded to be in cultivation.

Here's an idea you can put to work now! A rear view mirror on your tractor can save lives on highways and has a good more work in the field. Particularly if you have a mowing machine behind. It makes your work easier and keeps your eyes looking ahead where they should be.

Fire - cured tobacco growers have two disease resistant varieties to help them make a good crop. Va. 331—Black Root Resistant; Va-312—Root Rot resistant. However, don't use either unless you have a disease problem.

County Census Then And Now

A look at census figures reveals that Appomattox had 9,020 people in 1940; 9,348 in 1960; and approximately 9,160 in 1962, according to the community planner, H. S. Marsh, currently working with the county's Rural Planning Commission.

One reason for the small growth in population in the county says Marsh, is the fact that it takes fewer people on the farm to produce farm products. (There were more people in this county in 1850 than there are today.)

Youth Speaks
by Dan Williams

The world - famous evangelist Grace Smith told of a night club in Chicago called "The Gates of Hell". It was just a few doors down from the Calvary Church. One night an old drunken man asked a young man to show him the way to 'The Gates of Hell'. The young man took him to the corner and pointed to the sign "Calvary Church", and said, "Just go right by Calvary and you will come to the Gates of Hell."

Man is not condemned because he is drunk with his corn ego, his virtues, or his vices. Man is condemned because he goes right by Calvary. He is condemned because he says "no" to God's love gift hanging on the cross for him. He is condemned because he spurns God's righteousness, preferring his own. He is condemned because he believes not, and receives not Christ as his Saviour.

You see, the condemnation is the little choices of a life because of man's sins or failures, but because of man's refusal to accept Christ. This refusal is called "believing not," and it is the sin that causes condemnation.

Remember, if you have not yet received Him you have the Life's Greatest Living Option. Until you say 'yes', you are saying 'no'!

There is no condemnation here or hereafter to those who believe in his name and receive Him. But those who "believe not are "condemned already".

Now we ask you to attend Sunday School this Sunday Visit with us at the New Testament Baptist Church, 14 & Hendricks St., Lynchburg, Va. Sunday School — 9:45; Rev. R. B Joiner, Pastor.

Appomattox 1870 Appears On Pad

Miss Phyllis Thompson, who rows works for Blue Ridge Manufacturing Co. in New York has added another bit of "Appomattox information" to a growing number of products using the name of Appomattox or some of the buildings at Appomattox Court House National Historical Park.

"Appomattox 1870" appears as the kind of legal pad produced by T. S. Beckwith and Co., Inc.

We are sorry to hear that Mrs. T. J. Harvey of Richmond, is sick and the also got a fall. She did not break any bones, but was painfully hurt and still confined to her bed. We hope for her a speedy recovery.

News About the Congo

Any reports about the visit of the Congo have been received to the world by newspapers, many have been the letters sent to the General Conference about our denominational workers and institutions in the Congo.

Mrs. Pierson, president of the African Division has written Mr. Figuhr that our workers and property have been treasured and wonderfully protected. The Lord used P. G Hanna to get all of our Watutsi princes out of prison into nearby cities during the most critical days. Leonas Mkyerukira and other leaders are back at their posts in Masisi. Two of our laymen lost their lives, and it has been reported that the leader of the Simbas had ordered their beheaded. Three other workers were beaten. Missionary John Lewis was twice pulled fro mhis car and handled roughly. Another Leonas beaten. The Day Schools have been serving in Samazi. My family is safe.

Through such the area near Bigobo has been brought under the "scorched earth" policy, the prepared Bigobo Rivese and Station, and they have stored less. Talla Station in the Congo was visited by the government forces, who came money and a few provisions, otherwise things were intact. No word has been heard from Nebassa in the north.

Despite trouble, courage and victorious is expressed in a recent letter from Mbyikuira Pastor Pierson, Baptisms in 1964 were over the 1,000 mark. new converts last year and prepared for Baptism today more than 3,000 December
